Local Girl Accepts New Position

The town of Arrowwood has experienced a loss of many popular citizens during the past year but none will be more keenly felt than that of Miss Alice Archambault, chief operator at the local telephone exchange, who is discontinuing her work there in November.

Miss Archambault came to Arrowwood with her parents 12 years ago and has resided here continuously ever since that time. She attended the local school before accepting a position as operator for the Alberta Government Telephones in 1920. Under the efficient instruction of Mrs. E. E. Saunders, Alice became a very efficient, capable operator and in due time became Arrowwood's chief operator.

She acquired extra experience in drug stores and post office work when Mr. E. E. Jacques took over the management of the store.

Prompt, courteous, and ever willing to serve others as she went about her work from day to day, Miss Archambault possesses that individuality which has won for her a large circle of admirers. In social circles too she was a popular member, ever willing to lend assistance.

That Miss Archambault will be greatly missed is a certainty, but the best of luck and good wishes go with her as she assumes her duties as a member on the staff of the Vulcan Municipal Hospital.

Fire at the Colony

The Doughbush Colony east of town suffered a heavy loss by fire on last Friday. A small boy set fire to the large stack of green feed. A heavy wind soon made such a blaze that there was great danger to many buildings. School was dismissed and everybody carried water to prevent a greater disaster. The large barn was especially close to the burning stack, and it was only by the greatest effort it was saved.

QUEENSTOWN ITEMS

The Queenstown Ladies Aid fowl supper last week was well attended. The raffle of about 18 jars of fruit and pickles was won by Mr. Jensen. A plant donated by Mrs. McLaughlin was sold bringing in $1. The ladies wish to thank all who attended and helped to make it such a success.

Two children playing in the basement of Lavethers' old store and post office caused it to be set on fire. Smoke filling the building made it impossible for a few men on hand to see. However with the aid of a few pails of water it was soon taken into control and before any damage was done, it was extinguished.

Mr. A. Godkins barn was burned to the ground last week due to green feed heating. Besides the loss of barn and green feed, Mr. Godkins lost a lot of harness.

The Social Credit meeting and bridge on Saturday was well attended.

A Social Credit Conference is to be held in Milo Oct. 4 at 8 p.m.

Cattle Shipments to U.S.

Total shipments of cattle to U.S. markets from Alberta since the beginning of the year have been approximately 30,800 head.

Alberta Cheese Takes Top Place

Alberta cheese leaped into the limelight for the first time in many years last week, when an exhibit of three entries from a cheese factory near Edmonton, in competition with such famous dairying areas as the Fraser Valley in B.C., took all three first prizes in the cheese classes at the Vancouver exhibition. The prize winning Alberta cheese came from the Little factory at Buford, west of Leduc. The fact that this pioneer settlement was able to sweep the boards in the face of stiff competition from cheese factories of many years' standing in the coast province was commented on by dairymen at the coast. The cheese-maker responsible for the production was Alex Kerr, who has been connected with the Buford factory for some time.

SHOULDICE NOTES

Mrs. Cairn who has been a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Allen returned to her home Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Darwood and family of Calgary were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Watwood on Sunday.

Mrs. Wehrg was a visitor to Milo on Thursday last.

A number of local men are getting a few geese these days.

Mr. Don Yull bagged three wild geese while out hunting last week.

Fruit growing history has been made by Mrs. A. Smith in the Shouldice district this year when she successfully grew a quantity of crab apples. It is reported that the quality of the fruit is on a par with any obtainable on Alberta's markets.

Southland Lures Residents

Continuing the parade of residents from this district to new skies, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Brubaker and family departed this morning for Omak, Wash., where they expect to make their permanent home. For a number of years Everett had been engaged in wheat growing here, but this fall he abandoned the idea and in Washington he expects to enter the fruit growing industry.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Brubaker were conscientious workers in the community and local sporting organizations will lose the congeniality of a very ardent and enthusiastic supporter. May fortune favor the Brubakers family in their new surroundings.

Franklin Clifford Tucker Passes Away

Franklin Clifford Tucker was born at Denver, Colorado, Dec. 21st, 1878. He died Sept. 22nd, 1935, at his home near Bow City, aged 56 years, 9 months and 1 day.

Much of his life was spent in the state of Oregon. During the past 18 years he has resided in the Bow City district. Two children, Frank and Josephine, were born to a former marriage. On October 8th, 1917, he was married to Mrs. Ida May (Royer) Stanley. He is survived by his wife, his mother, two children, one step daughter, six brothers and four sisters.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Weiland, of Arrowwood, assisted by Rev. Mr. Hallett of the United Church. Interment in the Lomond cemetery.

Excellent Boxing Card for Mossleigh on Saturday, Sept. 28

On Saturday, Sept. 28 a very interesting boxing card is being staged in Mossleigh in which the fans will be treated to some fine bouts.

In the main event, George Roberts, that very popular boxer of Arrowwood who has never been defeated and has the splendid record of nine knock-outs and two draws in eleven contests, George is a fast stepping, hard hitting boy who is in close training for the fight. In Bosley he is meeting one of the best boys in Alberta, a clever, fast fighter and one that knows all the tricks of the game. He has had 26 fights and won 19 with 2 draws and 5 decisions against him. These boys are very evenly matched and will be in the best of condition for this contest.

The semi-windup is of heavier men. Segward Hegland, that well known boy of Queenstown is one that gives his best at all times. He is meeting Young Wilson late of Winnipeg, who comes to us with a letter of recommendation as a clever fighter and one that can be matched with the best in the west.

The preliminary bout featuring Alvin Garraway and Charles Smith of the Blackfoot Reserve promises to be a very interesting contest. These two boys were matched on a previous date but owing to Smith's illness he was unable to continue training and the match had to be postponed. They are now in perfect shape and both are confident of winning.

There isn't anything better to open the evening than a snappy preliminary. The opening bout will be between A. Roberts of Calgary and Kid Hayes of Regina. Hayes, a keen aggressive boxer, will be enjoyed by all.

Under the supervision of referee Mark DeWitt of Mossleigh this program of bouts will be carried out cleanly and efficiently.

Is Gratitude Numbered Among Human Virtues?

If so there should be some appreciation for the Wheat Pools in Western Canada today.

No organization has fought harder against the strongest kind of opposition.

And all for the benefit of the grain growers of the west.

No organization has so courageously faced danger and even the threat of extinction.

In order that the grain growers might not be sacrificed to greed and the arrogance of wealth and power.

Continuous criticism has been the lot of this farmer organization through the bitter years.

In which it fought for the grain farmers.

Surely it has not been asking too much to suggest that the grain farmers

Make Your Own Job

Conditional throughout the world during the past five years have admittedly been made, discouraging to all people, but especially so to youth. As boys and girls have come out of school and college, ready to take their place in the business world, even at the bottom of the ladder, they have discovered there was no place for them. They have been denied even the opportunity of making a start because the financial and economic world has been out of joint, with business marking time, and no development work being undertaken.

As a result, thousands have become discouraged, embittered because of denied and frustrated hopes and ambitions, have become drifters because they have lost hope for the future and accepted the easy but mistaken view that present conditions must be accepted as permanent conditions. Lacking any background of years in which work was plentiful, and having no experience in profitable employment, they can see no light ahead.

Such an attitude of mind is a terrible mistake. Future years will be just as bright, in fact brighter; just as busy, in fact busier; just as rich in opportunity and in surprising developments. In fact more so. The world will not stand still; it will move backward. Since the beginning of time and the dawn of civilization the movement, despite temporary setbacks, has always been both onward and upward. It will continue so.

Consider the most familiar names of people and products on the lips of practically everybody to-day—Henry Ford, Firestone, H. J. Heinz, Coca-Cola, Borden's Milk, Hires' Root Beer, Welch's Grape Juice, Maxwell House Coffee, Jell-O, and similar names. Do these names mean anything to the youth of to-day? They mean a great deal.

It was in 1890 that Henry Ford began working on a double-cylinder engine in a little shop on his farm. When he went to work in Detroit at $45 a month he took his shop along, and in 1893 his gasoline buggy was running and for a long time was the only automobile in Detroit. Forty years later he was rated a billionaire.

Firestone was a buggy salesman who became convinced there was a great future in the rubber business. He bought strips of rubber, cut it into crude solid tires and turned them into buggy wheels. Thus began the great tire industry of to-day.

H. J. Heinz used to grow hore-radish in his garden and peddle it from door to door. This backyard venture put him on the road to becoming Heinz 57.

In 1880 a doctor in Atlanta stood working over a kettle in an old house. On the next corner was a drugstore, and periodically the doctor rubbed over, aquified carbonated water into a glass containing a sample of syrup, and tasted the mixture. After about 300 attempts he had the first Coca-Cola.

While holidaying in New Jersey, Charles E. Hires was served a drink by a farmer's wife. Its ingredients were mainly native, and the drink, at first, rather lukewarm. Hires smacked his lips. Returning home he experimented with herbs, roots and berries. Thus was Hires' Root Beer born. John Wanamaker, the great merchant prince of the United States, discovered his first bill of goods when he was a boy. He was a clerk in one of the stores which bear his name, started with a pack on his back. Timothy Eaton started in a little corner lot store. The story of Woolworth's five-and-ten-cent stores is too well known to call for repetition. The great Crane Company, manufacturers of piping, valves, bath-room fixtures, and had its inception in a little brass foundry.

These great enterprises of to-day had very humble beginnings, many of them within the life of the present generation. Opportunities are just as great to-day. "What's going to alter our lives is probably happening this minute in a backyard workshop, where some crank is thinking by himself," Henry Ford declared recently. Another man states it this way: "Many of the million-dollar corporations of to-morrow are starting to-day with little capital but an idea. They are beginning in attics, cellars, kitchens, and in the minds of clerks behind store counters."

Recently the head of a huge business in the United States selling many different products told his near new products all launched since January, 1920, and now selling widely. David was not afraid of Goliath, and observed youth with an idea or capable of assimilating one, with vision, enterprise and daring can just as successful win out against the Goliath of big corporations.

To quote Henry Ford again, who recently said that unemployed people "should create their own businesses, no matter how small, instead of waiting for some one to give them a job." And as a writer in Forbes Magazine, from which much of the above is taken, says: "Ten years from now we will be reading more success stories gathered from the kitchens and cellars of 1935." No one who has a work-bench or a stove and a dollar—and an idea—he says, need be discouraged.

Strange Service

700 Deaf Mutes Worship in St. Paul's Cathedral

One of the strangest and most touching services ever held under the mighty dome of St. Paul's cathedral on a recent Sunday saw 700 deaf and dumb persons from 14 nations pray and sing without a sound being heard. They were athletes attending the football world cup games for the deaf and mute held in London. The service was conducted in the international sign language. Chaplains and missionaries mounted the lofty pulpit and voicelessly acted out the prayers, hymns and songs with eloquent looks and gestures.

Then the congregation joined in prayers and hymns.

Would Solve Problem

Shipment of Eggs From England Made As Experiment

A few dozen English eggs are making history. Thirty of them arrived in Sydney, Australia, after an air journey from London to Brisbane, and a railway journey of 500 miles from Brisbane to Sydney. The first reached Rio Grande do Sul, Brazil, after travelling more than 6,000 miles from London by airplane and Graf Zeppelin. Now Lord Greenway, the promoter of the experiment, is anxiously awaiting special letters from Australia and Brazil reporting on their condition on arrival. If the eggs are successfully hatched out, one of the greatest problems of poultry farmers throughout the world will be solved. Under present conditions it is impossible for poultry farmers in distant parts to reach their stocks by introducing young chicks from England.

For So-Called Luxuries

Bureau Of Statistics Has Issued Some Interesting Figures

What are luxuries? The Dominion Bureau of Statistics started to compile figures on the luxuries produced and consumed in Canada in 1923, and was confronted with the difficulty that one man's luxury is another man's ordinary, every-day comfort. This is true of food, furniture, clothes and so on. Even tobacco is claimed by some to be a necessity. So the bureau finally decided to classify everything as a luxury which is actually above the line of necessities. It included, therefore, such things as carpets, riverware, furs and cooked meats, and so, naturally, it did not present its conclusions as a hard-and-fast statement of luxury consumption in Canada, but rather "an attempt to throw some light on the production and consumption in Canada of goods which are more or less the nature of luxuries." It found that the factory value of these in 1923 was $263,608,185, or 12.6 per cent. of the total value of production in Canadian manufacturing industries. The retail values would, of course, be much higher.

The bureau also obtained Canadian consumption figures by subtracting exports from the figures for imports and production. It found that in 1923 the so-called luxuries were consumed to a factory value of $268,342,910.

Some of the individual items are rather interesting. Canada eats candy to the extent of nearly $10,000,000 per year; ice cream to the extent of more than $7,300,000; other confectionery, including chewing gum, over $10,000,000; cakes and pastry account for more than $10,000,000; beverages (not including tea, coffee, cocoa, etc.), nearly $21,000,000; and the value of the bulletin says is not often considered a luxury nowadays, nearly $8,400,000; toilet preparations over $5,000,000. These are the factory values.

The surprising item in the list is that for tobacco, as follows:

Cigars	1923
.....	$ 6,016,138	$ 4,705,393
Cigarettes	36,132,977
.....	$ 34,912,241
Other	32,842,202
.....	$ 31,596,679

$74,911,347 $71,724,213
These gains are factory values. For passenger automobiles, however, the bureau says that the Dominion paid the manufacturers less than half what they did for tobacco in both these years: $29,254,784 in 1923, and $24,519,910 in 1922.—Toronto Daily Star.

Severity For Prisoners Demanded By German Minister Of Justice

"Severity for prisoners as a Nazi least was the policy of the German minister of justice, as the opening of the 11th congressional penal conference in Berlin. "If criminal law is to represent a statement for wrong done the community," he told the 400 delegates from 50 nations, "and hence defend and protect the national community from evil-doers, the logical result is severity in the treatment of prisoners: so the punishment may be appreciable to the evil."

Guertner also announced that the Nazi Reich has definitely rejected the ancient legal principle: "Nulla poena sine lege" (no punishment unless a law is infringed). Instead, he said, it has substituted the maxim: "Nulla crimen sine poena." Under which punishment is meted out regardless of the incompleteness of a law.

Celebrating Anniversary

Violin Industry Started In German Town 250 Years Ago

Mittenwald, Germany, a village in the mountains of Bavaria is now celebrating the 250th anniversary of its violin industry, begun in the 17th century by St. Matthias Klotz.

Throughout the summer the town folk present a play, "The Song of the Stars," telling the story of Klotz as his wanderings over Italy, where he learned instrument making. The play will be staged again this winter at a nearby town as part of the entertainment for the winter Olympics.

The story of Matthias Klotz is a romantic one. When he was a boy of 10 his peasant family sent him to Italy to study under famous violin makers there. Twenty years later he returned to Mittenwald, opening his own workshop. Apprentices flocked to him and soon he established the fame of the town for the fine instruments, a reputation Mittenwald retains to-day.

After making a number of instruments, Klotz's craftsmen had to go out into the world themselves to sell them. Strapping their violins on their backs they wandered through nearby countries, giving demonstrations and making sales in castles and great monasteries.

Correspondence Courses

Extending Education To Those Out Of Reach Of Schools

Nine years ago the Ontario department of education started correspondence courses for persons out of reach of school either for the whole year or part of the summer months. The courses were intended also for those physically unable to attend school and for whom no provision was made for education.

During the last school year the enrolment was 1,800 of whom 500 were physically unable to attend school. The courses are free and the department pays all expenses. Average cost of educating a pupil for a year in this manner is from $12 to $15.

Marking The Ballot

Strange As It May Seem, Many Voters Miff The Job

Placing an X beside a candidate's name is a simple task but at the approaching Dominion general election it is likely 25,000 or more electors will miff the job.

In the 1920 contest 24,119 lost their votes through improperly marked ballots and there are more parties and candidates this time to confuse the voter.

Parliament places the ballots in the hands of voters and supplies pencils to mark them. That is as much as it can do. Electors have only to make the crosses themselves. Yet in 1920 ballots were rejected in every constituency in Canada.

Markings in addition to the cross, use of a pen or colored pencil instead of the black pencil provided and signing of the ballot by the voter are the most frequent causes of spoiled ballots.

Through habit many men use their fountain pens and deputy returning officers throw out their ballots. On occasions, however, judges frequently have ruled such ballots valid. The Election Act says the cross must be made with a black pencil.

Many persons start to mark their X opposite the wrong name, score it out and then mark it opposite the candidate they wish to support. This spoils the ballot. They should ask the deputy returning officer for a new one.

Most voters sometimes ask why all this fuss about markings when the voter's choice is plainly indicated? The answer is that precautions are necessary to discourage bribery. They are the culmination of years of experience with elections, the frailties of human nature and the cunning of some politicians.

In the '90s and earlier when the population was small, party workers knew which voters were Conservative, Liberal and from the fence. Of the undecided variety some would sell their votes and the temptation of workers in a close race was strong.

But unless the vote buyer could be sure those he bought went to his candidate there was no use buying them. The result has been that there were to allow party scrutineers to identify ballots while they were being counted.

Election workers claim there is very little direct bribery now. Bids are so populous and party affiliations of voters so indefinite it would cost too much. In addition there is the almost certain risk of the election being voided.

Some Of The Aerial Exploits Of This Famous Flyer

Here are the aerial exploits of Wiley Post, who with Will Rogers, film comedian, was killed in an airplane crash in Alaska.

With Harold Gatty, Post flew around the world in eight days, 15 hours, and 15 minutes, in 1931.

In 1923, Post made a solo round the world flight, in seven days, 18 hours, and 46 minutes.

The following year, Post announced he would concentrate on the practical side of aviation. He made two sensational high altitude trips over his home town of Bartlettville, Okla., bearing a "super-charged" oil of his own design.

Post made four unsuccessful attempts to make a transcontinental flight through the stratosphere. Each time he was forced down on the way from Burbank, Cal., to New York, the last failure June 1, this year.

He used but one ship in all his achievements—the "Winnie Mae."

Beagle caught fire as a result of a backfire of the motor. With presence of mind the agent, Fred Miller, immediately took the fire extinguisher and the flames were brought under control before serious damage occurred.

Brethren Church Notes

Pastor's Sermon theme on Sunday morning "The Master Builder and His Church."

Next Sunday will be the last session in the contest. Everybody should be there, on time, in order to hold our standing.

Many find the "Happy Hour" evening service a great help in the work of the following week. Prayer service Sunday evening at 7.30.

The offering next Sunday morning will be for District Mission Work.

Live Stock Population

Live stock census of Alberta as taken by card survey in June by the Federal Bureau of Statistics shows a slight increase in cattle and some decrease in the hog population.

Hog population is shown as reduced from 895,100 head in 1934 to 808,100 in June of this year, but the December survey should show a considerable increase as a result of the expected increases in fall litters.

Cattle population shows an increase from 1,570,000 head to 1,604,200 head.

Horses are reduced from 698,300 head to 691,300 head. Sheep show a drop from 695,200 head to 638,000 head. Poultry total is 5,783,200 compared to 6,992,000 in 1934.

Combine Specials

Prices out to the quick

To-day's most popular combine, the Oliver, Nichols and Shepard Combine, the combine with the regular large threshing cylinder, the "Man Behind the Gun" and steel winged beaters.

The demand for these combines proves their worth, and the price—why its astounding what these machines may be bought for. An inquiry will bring you all the details.

These combines may be had in 12 and 16 foot sizes with table extensions, and all have the recleaning equipment built into them.

We also have a few second hand binders
